

Jefferson County Public Library Library Campaign Literature Policy

General

The Jefferson County Public Library accepts political information on issues and candidates of interest to the citizens of Jefferson County during election seasons as space allows at each location. The Libraries takes no responsibility for acquiring, replacing or presenting a wide representation of issue and candidate literature.

The Jefferson County Public Library complies with State electioneering laws through the removal of campaign materials promoting particular individuals or stances on issues.